No such variance or modification of the provisions of Chapter 154, Zoning, shall be granted unless it appears beyond a reasonable doubt that all the following facts and conditions exist:

Section 154.158(C)(f)a addresses factors which must be shown by the applicant that a practical difficulty exists by the showing of the following for the granting of a dimensional variance:

- (1) That the need for the requested variance is due to unique circumstances or physical conditions of the property involved, such as narrowness, shallowness, shape, water, or topography and is not due to the applicants personal or economic difficulty.
- (2) That the need for the requested variance is not the result of actions of the property owner or previous property owners (self-created).
- (3) That strict compliance with regulations governing area, setback, frontage, height, bulk, density or other dimensional requirements will unreasonably prevent the property owner from using the property for a permitted purpose, or will render conformity with those regulations unnecessarily burdensome.
- (4) That the requested variance is the minimum variance necessary to do substantial justice to the applicant as well as to other property owners in the district.
- (5) That the requested variance will not cause an adverse impact on surrounding property, property values, or the use and enjoyment of property in the neighborhood or zoning district..

Section 154.158(C)(f)b addresses factors which the applicant must demonstrate that an undue hardship exists by showing all of the following for the granting of a use variance:

- (1) The building, structure, or land cannot be reasonably used for any of the uses permitted by right or by special use permit in the zoning district in which it is located.
- (2) That the need for the requested variance is due to unique circumstances or physical conditions of the property involved, such as narrowness, shallowness, shape, water, or topography and is not due to the applicants personal or economic hardship.
- (3) That the proposed use will not alter the essential character of the neighborhood.

- (4) That the need for the requested variance is not the result of actions of the property owner or previous property owners (self-created)
